

My living my life dream By jasmine

Well it all started last year with my friends, we always used to draw what we dreamed about!!!!!! But what I did not know was that I was going to have that same realistic dream in real life!?!?!?!? Ok I can tell you my dream but you can't tell anybody else ok? So I was dreaming that I had a very special tree, it was not just an ordinary tree it was a MONEY tree!! The best thing about it was there was a dairy and a bakery right next to it, so I would go every day in the morning to the bakery and dairy! From the bakery I would get lollies, chocolate donuts and drinks. Then I would go to school and give all of the teachers chocolate and some brownies!!!! When I finish school I would go to my 26 storey house along with 4 butlers, 2 maids, house cleaners, a building company, 3 artists, makeover and 7 berry pickers.!...! Then I would have a huge backyard with a swing, gold statue, bird bath with pearls all around it, flowers such as : hibiscus, dasis, jasmine flowers, daffodils, california poppy, sunflowers, roses and orchids. Then I had a tremendous hedge and written in it it said in capital letters QUEEN OF COUNTRY !!!!!!! When I went back to my house I saw that my cute, shiny, delightful crown was not there. Then I saw a big humongous hole in the glass door, next I saw a tremendous dent in my rainbow gate, soon after that I saw a guy in a black mask and a bag with money falling out!!! I knew something was up with him. So I thought back and I knew that he was a ROBBER I shouted. I called my dad and he called his friends and they came. Next I told him what direction he went in and then my dad ran with his friends and in the end he caught him!?!? But something was wrong then I said take the mask off and it was my brother who was trying to get some money for his house because he had 3 babies they were called lebron, Zendaya and Giannis. The end
